District Operations Conference

District Operations Conference offers insight into how a district should work to efficiently support units. This training will help you and your other district committee members learn your job and the jobs of others. A well-coordinated group of Scouters will be focused and better able to keep units functioning well. The Conference also helps initiate a working relationship between council and district personnel.

This course is recommended for all members of any district committee. The District Operations Conference is designed to help districts continually improve their functionality. The Conference also results in a well-coordinated and dedicated group of Scouters committed to achieving the mission of the council and it's districts.

As a result of completing the District Operations Conference, participants will be able to:

1. Define the four functions of district operation and list all the positions and structures of the district that carry out each of the four functions.

2. Identify the major tasks of their specific committee or district assignment and define the processes by which each task will be accomplished.

3. Understand the working relationship between volunteers and the professional staff.

4. Describe the content and expectations of an effective district committee meeting.
